Last Updated Wednesday, 12 November 2008

LUFC>talk is the newest Leeds United fans forum to be created and provides a platform for global fans to discuss all things LUFC.

Administrator, Graham aka Sheepy from Rothwell said:

"The forum is already growing fast with over 500 posts in just our first four weeks of existence, we already have members from Romania, Australia, Canada and the United States, plus countless visitors to the site";

"It's really great to be able to run such a community, our aim is to build a really friendly and close knit community of Leeds supporters from all around the globe, its a real international team effort too with the admin, design and photography being worked on in Leeds, and the programming done by fellow Administrator Bogdan in Romania";

"We encourage all Leeds fans to join us, it doesn't matter where you are, as long as you're a white, you'll be alright!";
